OFFICIAL PROGRAM.

The official program of the inauguration of the President of the United States, at the National Capitol, Saturday next, has been completed. It is compiled under the direction of the committee of arrangements of the Senate and the House of Representatives, consisting of Senators John C. Spooner, Nelson W. Aldrich, Augustus O. Bacon, and Representatives John Dalzell, Edgar D. Crumpacker, and John Sharp Williams.

The proceedings in the Senate chamber will be as follows: The President-elect will be escorted to the Capitol by the committee of arrangements, and will enter the Senate wing by the bronze door. The President-elect will go directly to the President's room, where he will remain until the committee of arrangements waits upon him, and escorts him to the Senate chamber. He will occupy the seat reserved for him in front of the Vice-President's desk. The committee of arrangements will occupy the seats at his left.

The Vice-President-elect will be accompanied to the Senate by the committee of arrangements, will enter the Senate wing at the bronze door, and will go to the Vice-President's room, where he will remain until the committee of arrangements waits upon him, and escorts him to the Senate chamber, and the oath of office will be administered to him by the President of the Senate pro tempore, just before the adjournment of the present Senate. After prayer by the Chaplain, the Vice-President will deliver the oath of office to the Senators-elect.

FROM CHAMBER TO PORTICO.

After the organization of the Senate shall have been completed, those assembled in the Senate chamber will proceed through the rotunda to the platform on the center portico of the Capitol in the following order: The marshal of the District of Columbia and the marshal of the Supreme Court, the ex-Presidents, the ex-Vice-Presidents, the Chief Justice, Associate Justices, Clerk and Reporter of the Supreme Court, the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, the committee of arrangements, the President-elect, Ambassadors to the United States, Ministers Plenipotentiary, the Vice-President, and the Secretary of the Senate, the Senate of the United States, and ex-Senators; the Sergeant-at-Arms and Clerk of the House of Representatives, retiring Members, Members-elect, and officers of the House of Representatives; heads of the executive departments, Governors of the States and Territories, the Admiral of the Navy and his aide, the Chief of Staff of the Army and his aide, the Lieutenant-General of the Army, retired; officers of the Army and Navy who by name have received the thanks of Congress, and all other persons who have been admitted to the floor of the Senate chamber, followed by those who have been admitted to the galleries.

After the occupants of the galleries have proceeded to the platform, employees of the Senate, Supreme Court, House of Representatives, and superintendent's office will be admitted to seats on the platform. While the Senators-elect are being sworn in and the procession formed, the members of the press, in a body, will proceed down the west steps leading to the gallery, through the rotunda, to the seats reserved for them on the platform.

GROUPED ON THE PLATFORM.

On reaching the platform the President-elect will take the seat reserved for him, the Chief Justice on his right and the committee of arrangements and the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate on his left. The ex-Presidents, ex-Vice-Presidents and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, the Vice-President, Secretary, members of the Senate, and ex-Senators will occupy seats on the right. The retiring members of the House and members-elect will be seated on the right of the President, next to and behind the Senate. The Diplomatic Corps will occupy seats on the left of the President.

When all are assembled, the oath of office will be administered to the President-elect by the Chief Justice or, in his absence, by the senior Justice present. The President will then deliver his inaugural address. At the conclusion of the address the members of the Senate, preceded by the Sergeant-at-Arms, Vice-President, and the Secretary, will return to the Senate chamber, and the President, accompanied by the committee of arrangements, will proceed to the Executive Mansion.

ENTITLED TO ADMISSION.

The doors of the Senate chamber will be open at 11 o'clock to those entitled to admission, which will include, in addition to those already mentioned, ex-Speakers of the House of Representatives, ex-Secretaries and ex-Sergeants-at-Arms of the Senate, Judges of the Court of Appeals and of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, Judges of the Court of Claims, the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, the Librarian of Congress, the Superintendent of the Capitol and his assistant, and the Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds.

The Supreme Court, headed by its officers, will enter the Senate chamber in a body at 11.45 and be announced. The House of Representatives, headed by its officers, will enter the Senate chamber in a body at 11.50 and be announced.

THE INAUGURAL BALL.

With the passing of the last organization in the civic division of the parade the event of the day will come to an end. Then will come the great social event at the Pension Building, the inaugural ball. Chairman Corcoran Thom and the members of the committee on floor and promenade will open the festivities promptly at 7.30. At just what time the President will arrive at the ball has not yet been determined. After he has appeared and left it is possible that there may be dancing. If there is any dancing when the clock strikes twelve and the 4th day of March, 1905, has ended, and Sunday,

March 5, has begun, it will cease, and then the throng may promenade until morning if it is their desire to do so.

The program for the promenade concert and the order of dancing at the inaugural ball were made public yesterday at the New Willard headquarters after being decided upon by Director Santelmann, of the Marine Band; Director Haley, of Haley's Orchestra, and Chairman Percy S. Foster, of the music committee. It is considered by them as the best that has ever been submitted, thus insuring the overwhelming success of the musical feature of the great social event in honor of the inauguration of President Roosevelt.

The Uniform Rank, Knights of the Maccabees, is the military degree of that large and prosperous organization (The Knights of the Maccabees of the World), membership 375,000, and numbers about 8,000 members stationed in nearly every State in the Union. They have achieved a grand reputation for efficiency, and at their biennial encampment of 1904, held at the World's Fair, were the recipients of many compliments from regular Army officers. The organization was created in 1891 in Port Huron, Mich., chartered by the Supreme Tent, K. O. T. M., in 1893, and is patterned after the United States Army. While the Supreme Commander of the Knights of the Maccabees, the Hon. D. P. Markey, is the Commander-in-Chief, the active command of the Uniform Rank is vested in Major-General W. H. Sletzer, of Cleveland, O. The General Staff consists of Adjutant-General J. R. Zmunt, Cleveland, O.; Quartermaster-General Nelson C. Ely, Jeanette, Pa.; Inspector-General A. I. Lee, Des Moines, Ia.; Commissioner-General H. L. Tichner, San Francisco, Cal.; Judge-Advocate-General R. B. Anderson, St. Louis, Mo.; Surgeon-General H. F. Mitchell, South Bend, Ind. An aide-de-camp is appointed for each State as the personal representative of the Major-General, that for the District of Columbia being Col. O. W. Hammond, who has charge of the arrangements for the body during the inaugural parade. The Sixth Pennsylvania Regiment, Col. S. R. Mason, of Connellsville, Pa., commanding, will participate in the parade in a body, and separate companies from Virginia, West Virginia and Ohio will also be present. Three hundred Sir Knights in uniform are expected to participate in the inaugural parade.

Headquarters are at Golden Rule Hall, No. 430 Ninth Street Northwest, for the 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th of March, any other time at 723 Eighth Street Northwest.
